YACHT CLUB

Let's Get Wet!

Summer is just around the corner, and I know of no better activity than getting into the water. Whether it's in the Club pool, or at one of Southern California's amazing beaches, or best of all, with mask, fins, and snorkel at Catalina, there is nothing we can do that is better than being in the water.

The fitness benefits are well known. Along with being a non-impact activity, it's easy on creaky knees (like mine) and hips.

With all the great access we have to the ocean, there is really no reason not to get in the ocean. Of course, you all know that Barbie and I love to scuba dive. Dave Barry wrote that once you try scuba, you will realize that being in a boat (on the surface) is like going to the circus and staying on the outside of the tent. I'm not entirely sure about that, because I like being on boats a whole lot, too, but there is definitely something special about getting into the water. Seeing the marine animals, feeling the buoyancy, and indulging in deep thoughts about where we came from is all part of it. Honestly, I can't get enough of it.

It's cold, you say? Yep, it is. In the winter our local waters can cool into the mid 50s, and in summer the average temperature (last summer's high temperatures notwithstanding) is around 68. For a few weeks in late August, the water can warm up to 70. That's still pretty cold, and as I get older, it feels even colder. But that is no reason to keep us out! There are fantastic wetsuits on the market today that eliminate any discomfort due to cold water.

Some of us have negative memories, formed quite a few years ago, of trying to put on those old-fashioned wetsuits. When I think of those times, it reminds me of the guy at the tire shop stretching a tire around a rim. It was certainly no fun, even for those of us with slender, muscular, movie star bodies (ahem!).

Nowadays, wetsuits are very easy to use. Some of them have a stretch factor of more than 40%. I am a big believer in them, and having now discovered these modern wetsuits made of materials other than the original, non-stretchy neoprene, I am happy to say cold water no longer is an issue for me, and does not keep me out of the ocean that I love. Many of you know, I am married to what might very well be the coldest person on the planet, and she wears one of these modern suits, and is in the water all the time.

Get one of these new suits and you will enjoy swimming and snorkeling at our local cruising destinations, or beaches along the coast. Or, you can simply enjoy the heated Club pool, along with towel and restaurant service ... hmmm.

Opening Day 2018

It was certainly one for the record books! Thanks to Fleet Captain Tim Clarke for watching the weather reports so diligently, and to Michele Underwood and CYC's staff for being so flexible. In the face of an inclement weather forecast, we decided to bring the ceremony indoors, which in spite of all the complications that entails, turned out to be a wonderful event, with a very nice, almost cozy vibe to the whole affair.

Everyone who attended had a blast, and while I don't wish for rain for any future Opening Days, Barbie and I thoroughly enjoyed this one. The 2018 yachting season is open, the harbor is free of ice, sea lions not so much, but at least only one of these is present in the Club bar. Enjoy the season!

Evening Colors

Thanks to the reliable, weekly efforts of our Master at Arms Scott Jarema, between Memorial Day and Labor Day we will be striking the colors at 1845 each Sunday. Here's how this works: come to the Club bar at 1830 or even a little earlier, order your favorite sundowner, and walk down to the Club lawn to enjoy the ceremony with fellow Club members. Oh, did I mention the canon shot? Ka-boom! It's a nice way to end the weekend.

See ya on (or under) the water!

Interesting Boats

This is Dark Side, S/C Alice Leahey and Bob Congdon's new ride — a beautiful new Jeanneau NC 11. She is 11 meters, or about 36.5 feet. The boat has two turbo'd 200-horsepower diesels, and will top out at 32 knots. Normal efficient cruising speed is about 23. It has the Volvo joystick system for easy and fun maneuvering. Bob and Alice are delighted with the performance of their new boat. (There are no strings to pull or any big white things to block the view.)

Their plans are for local cruising to Catalina and the Channel Islands. Paula Cameron, our Breeze editor extraordinaire, suggested I grab this photo while we were on the bridge of the Charles Hathaway during the SCYA Midwinter Regatta. Dark Side was volunteering as the photo boat for the event. ⚓

Club 25 Dinner

By General Manager MICHELE UNDERWOOD

The classes of 1993 and 1968 were celebrated at the Club 25 dinner on March 16. After a cocktail hour where old friends had a chance to catch up, a sumptuous dinner was served, finishing with a delicious pineapple upside-down cake. S/C Martin McCarthy presided over the event, as he was the Commodore during 1993. S/C Tom Leweck, S/C McCarthy's installing officer, reminisced over the accomplishments that Martin contributed to the Club before his election to the Bridge and in the years following.

S/C Bill Stump gave the year in review for 1993, which included hosting major regattas, successful campaigns by our senior and junior sailors, and rowing achievements by our master CYC rowers. Commodore Mike Blecher commented on what was happening during the year 1968, including the first prototype of an early cell phone and the release of the movie "The Graduate." S/C McCarthy, Commodore Blecher, and General Manager Michele Underwood gave out certificates and pins, and congratulated members reaching their 25- and 50-year milestones. ♣

CYC Flashback!

Steve Moses currently races Wombat, his Martin 242, but he grew up racing in New York at the Nyack Boat Club (NBC), starting at age eight in their junior program. Steve tells us, “When I was nine, my parents joined a group at our club and ordered 10 Sunfish which all arrived in one truckload, and our fleet was born. I vividly remember delivery day: all 10 boats in cardboard boxes sitting in the sun all over an NBC member’s front lawn. I picked the boat with green trim, and named it Magic Carpet. I raced it until I was 16, when I bought a Laser with the money I earned teaching junior sailing at my club that summer. On weekends I crewed for my father, Richard Moses, on our Highlander, Flying Circus.”

Steve also included a photo of the timer he used as a junior. He says it still keeps excellent time, for at least five minutes! His wife, Miriam, uses it as a backup timing device when volunteering for race committee on the Charles Hathaway.

CYC Bowling Night

By ANTHONY AGOGLIA, Sportsman's Club Chair

March 20 marked what is sure to be the start of a long-running tradition when the CYC Sportsman's Club hosted its first bowling night at Bowlero in Westchester. Members dined on a never-ending buffet of cheeseburger sliders, chicken tenders, margarita flatbread, and fresh salad with an open bar as we bowled the night away ... and the surprise discovery of the night was just how poorly sailors really bowl!

High score went to Mike "The Strike" Zeiden, whose whopping 110 out of a potential 300 points was notable not only for the pins dropping but for his relatively near-perfect form. Mike narrowly beat out "Tia" Maria Citron for top honors by besting her 108, and, after reviewing the video, his score stood.

On the low end, competition was fierce with many scores less than 60 but in the end the lowest score prize went to guest Lynn "Gutterball" Parker who amazingly had a 1, yes one pin dropped after seven frames, to wind up with a 19 total on the winning (or is it losing?) game!

A great time was had by all and it was a great send off as Jr. S/C Kellie Fennessy and Mike Priest attended their last CYC event. It should be noted the Bowlero staff was very confused by the extent of the Mt. Gay rum consumption.

Keep an eye out for upcoming LAX Range Night and Dodgers Night soon! ♣

Evening Colors Honors Our Country

By Port Captain MONICA ANTOLA

Starting Memorial Day weekend, you are invited to enjoy a beautiful sunset while observing Evening Colors at the CYC flagpole Sunday evenings.

While the sun still illuminates the flag, "Retreat" will be played over the loudspeaker and the CYC Master at Arms will fire the cannon. The flag will be lowered and respectfully folded into the traditional triangle, taking on the appearance of a tri-cornered colonial hat.

This is a short ceremony but should be taken seriously. While the flag is lowered, observers should stop, look toward the flag, and put their right hand over their heart, unless they are in uniform, at which point they should salute. Vehicles within sight or hearing of the ceremony should be stopped as well.

The ceremony is a special way to end a summer weekend. ♣

Dash Heads to French Polynesia

By STEVE EDWARDS

With cheering friends lining the dock, blue sky, and mild wind, Dash slipped out of her mooring at CYC just past noon on March 28. The cutter-rigged Taswell 56 carried S/C Kellie Fennessy and Mike Priest, plus crewmember Justin Connolly (Justin and Kellie raced together regularly on Persistence). They made a brief stop in Avalon to play “Southern Cross” on the jukebox at the Marlin Bar, then set course for French Polynesia. Crossing the Pacific is expected to take three weeks. Their journey can be tracked at <https://share.garmin.com/DashSailing> and www.dashsailing.com.

Fine to Fanky Conditions at Berger #2

By ALEJANDRO BUGACOV

Conditions were excellent for the March 3 Berger Series #2, hosted by Del Rey YC. We started with about 10 knots from 230 degrees, but then the breeze built up. We rounded the Squirrel Bank buoy in nearly squallish conditions with puffs close to 18 to 20 knots, and the wind rotating to 300 degrees or greater.

The big boats that rounded earlier were able to carry their spinnakers for most of their downwind leg, but by the time we rounded the Squirrel Bank mark, the wind had shifted so far north that we were not able to carry the spinnaker and had to sail most of our way back with the jib. We sailed a pretty good upwind leg, managing to keep up with boats that were longer than our 24' boat, but were hurt with the 30-second rating penalty for the random leg course. We placed third in PHRF B, losing out to Jack Mayer's Zephyr (Del Rey YC) in second place by only 30 seconds or so.

Racing with me were skipper Joaquin Gutierrez, Eugenio Cingolani, Claudio Fassardi, and my daughter Helena Bugacov. It was a great day for our beloved sport! 🇺🇸

Cal Race Week: Get Ready to Race and Celebrate

By V/C DEBBIE FEINERMAN,
Co-Chair

Cal Race Week is almost here, and the Club is getting ready for a fantastic June 2-3 weekend of racing and celebrating. Stop what you're doing and register by May 13, before the early discount disappears. With what you save, you can buy a Cal Race Week shirt and have money left over. We're delighted to welcome returning sponsors Mount Gay Rum and North Sails, and to extend a hearty greeting to the hundreds of racers expected to participate this year.

Did you know that you could win a perpetual trophy without winning your class? It's true! Two of our six perpetual trophies fit that description. The Thomas K. Armstrong California Challenge Trophy is awarded to the winning yacht club three-boat team, and this year we're allowing teams to consist of either (a) three boats from the same yacht club or (b) two boats from the same yacht club and a third boat from a different yacht club. The Junior Crew Trophy goes to the best scoring boat in each class with at least one junior (<18) aboard. There is a tiny catch: you must complete a special entry form. It's easy to do, there is no separate entry fee, and the forms are posted on the Cal Race Week page mentioned below.

In addition to awards to the top finishers in each class and perpetual trophies, Cal Race Week promises fun for sailors and volunteers after racing. Since sailors need refreshments, we're reprising keg beer, a Mt. Gay rum tasting, and Club-hosted dinner on Saturday. Festivities continue with Ab-Soul-Ute, the same band that kept people on the dance floor until late in the evening last year.

Registration is open, and discounted entry fees apply to all who register and pay by May 13. Regular entry fees apply thereafter until the May 30 entry deadline. To register, and for more event information, visit the Cal Race Week page at calyachtclub.com/regattas, or contact regatta chairs Debbie Feinerman at dsfeinerman@gmail.com or Nicole Harnett at nharnett@gmail.com. ☛

One of Saturday's post-race highlights at Cal Race Week will be a Mt. Gay rum tasting on the docks.

Strong Currents, Light Wind at Morro Bay's Big Rock Regatta

By MIKA STERNBERG

Over the weekend of March 9-11, juniors representing yacht clubs from all over Los Angeles, Ventura, Santa Barbara, Cabrillo, Morro Bay, and San Francisco gathered in Morro Bay for the Big Rock Regatta. The eight teams participated in six races, but felt a little disappointed after preparing for 20 races. Conditions were not as expected. Strong currents and low winds were challenging, however it was still a fun and good learning experience for everyone.

I arrived with my mom and sister at about 1 p.m. on Friday from the Palisades in Los Angeles. I've been to a number of regattas along the California coast, but this was my first time in Morro Bay. There are similarities and differences between Morro Bay and Los Angeles. Some similarities are that they both have beautiful beaches, have regattas, and good sailing teams. Some differences are that Morro Bay is a little town full of small and quaint motels and shops, has a skateboarding museum, and the highlight of the scenery is the huge rocks coming out of the ocean. Another major difference is that Morro Bay is not surrounded by mountains, so the currents are more influenced by the winds in the area.

Saturday morning started with the expectation of participating in 10 races, but due to the conditions, there were only four. We set out with the currents pushing us toward the west. We anticipated wind speed of 5-10 knots in the morning and 10-20 in the afternoon, but we had six at most. We had some good starts to the races, but the current was pushing us up and down the line. Everyone was over the line. No one liked the conditions and everyone tried to overcome the frustration. The race committee decided to let us do the rest of the races the next day.

Even though the conditions were not optimal we had a great weekend. We visited the Skateboard Museum, which has the second biggest skateboard in the world, saw beautiful shell stores and nice restaurants. My younger sister loved the seals and the funny otters and also had the time to visit the local aquarium and feed a wounded seal.

The next day's conditions were similarly challenging; there was a little bit more wind and a little bit less current. We had two races that day. At the end of the day, everyone worked together to get the boats on the trailer.

The kids got their prizes and I said my goodbyes to the teams and coaches. I'm looking forward to my next regatta, in San Francisco! ⚓

Passover Seder: CYC's Newest Holiday Tradition!

By NAOMI HOCHMAN, Event Chair

The third annual Passover Seder, held on March 31, the second night of Passover, was once again a roaring success. The event was again a sellout, with more than 80 in attendance, including Vice Commodore Debbie Feinerman and S/C Bill Stump, and Rear Commodore Stephanie Weston and Alan.

Led by Event Chair Naomi Hochman and Cantor Teri Sulc (and her guitar), we told the story of the Exodus, sang songs, and enjoyed Chef Christian's sumptuous meal of matzoh ball soup, gefilte fish, and brisket, plus, of course, the requisite four glasses of delicious wine. A wonderful time was had by all, especially the kids, who received prizes galore for finding the elusive Afikomen.

Special thanks to General Manager Michele Underwood, Quin in catering, the ladies at the front desk, and especially Chef Christian, Luis, Adrian, and the entire kitchen and wait staff for working so hard the night before Easter Sunday. 🌿

B-I-N-G-O!

By JENNIFER EAGEN

On Sunday, March 18, the Family Activities Committee hosted CYC's first bingo night. More than 70 members and guests gathered in the Fireside Room for a night of exciting bingo games and brain-stumping trivia. Chef Christian prepared a delicious chicken dinner, and an ice cream bar with yummy toppings completed the evening.

We were fortunate to have two amazing bingo callers. Member Kirk Zipfel was joined by Chunky B. and kept the crowd laughing and yelling bingo! The bingo games ranged from the typical vertical, horizontal and diagonal rows to the more creative games that spelled out CYC. There were prizes for all ages including CYC merchandise, wine, arts and crafts sets, and huge plush animals.

Member Howard Drubner filled the entire bingo board and took home the grand prize – a CYC seafood dinner! Trivia questions covered modern literature, sports, rock 'n' roll, and geography. Congratulations to all our winners! ♣

Toddler & Me, Music & Yoga, Fun & More Fun

By SARAH LUPPEN FOWLER, Toddler & Me Co-chair

The Family Activities Committee invited teachers from Happy Baby Yoga and Wellness Studio in El Segundo to teach family yoga and a Spanish music class for parents and their little ones. We had a big group in the Fireside Room doing downward dogs and downward puppies, saving our toes from shark attacks, and learning to sing Spanish songs about farm animals—there was something for everyone!

The event started with 30 minutes of family yoga with our instructor, Jules, who was a hit with the parents and the kids. The bright sun shined through the windows as the little yogis did sun salutations. Then we switched to 30 minutes with Baila Baila Spanish music instructor Camila. She had the whole room up and dancing and singing and making hilarious animal noises. The fun atmosphere paired perfectly with the gorgeous day outside.

This was the Family Activities Committee's first Toddler & Me event and, based on the success of this event, Co-chairs Sarah Fowler and Erin Petersen plan to do many more. So be on the look-out for more Toddler & Me events coming soon! 🍀

Wednesdays with the CYCWA Bridge Crew

By SEO MARY JANE McCLINTOCK

It all started about 40 years ago ... four CYC women were playing bridge every Wednesday in the bar at CYC. If one player could not play, the game was canceled. Thanks to SEO Judy Levi, an excellent bridge player, she knew someone who was a Master bridge player who was willing to give lessons. At least six women who were beginners signed up and met every Wednesday to learn from this expert.

Soon three tables of bridge players were meeting every Wednesday in the bar. On Thursday, a group of four women, calling themselves the Bridgettes, who were unable to play on Wednesday, set up a table in the bar for bridge. The game was so popular and drew so many members it became a club sponsored by the Women's Association.

Susan Allan, a 54-year member of CYC, co-chairs this activity and represents the bridge players at CYCWA monthly meetings. Please call or send an email to Co-chairs Susan Allan or Joan Silver if you are a bridge player and would like to be on their list of substitutes. If you'd like to learn to play, Susan or Joan can recommend bridge clubs where you may take lessons. Don't hesitate – you will love the game. Until then, the bidding is five spades ... or maybe a grand slam! ♣

Tournament House Tour Friday, May 11

Get an early start to Mother's Day weekend and join CYCWA on Friday, May 11, for a special day in Pasadena! The excursion includes transportation to and from CYC for a private tour of the Tournament House (Wrigley Mansion) and rose garden, followed by lunch at The Valley Hunt Club, the private club that originated the Tournament of Roses. A past president of the Tournament of Roses will give a presentation detailing how the Tournament organizes the annual New Year's Day events. Reservations are required. Check the flyer in this issue for details.

Happy Hour Book Club Thursday, May 17, 6:30 p.m., Fireside Room

"Outside the Wire," written by our fellow Club member Patricia Smiley, is her second book in the Pacific Homicide police procedural mystery series, featuring homicide detective Davie Richards and set in Southern California locations. There are baffling clues as the intrepid and, yes, female, Davie investigates the shooting of a retired U.S. Army Ranger whose body, with only one military dog tag, is found in a parking structure at LAX. The plot has more ups and downs than Santa Monica Bay on a stormy day, and the author will be on hand to moderate. Co-chairs are Leslie Bene and Michael Cubbin. $10 for wine and cheese, inclusive. Reserve at front desk.

Book Mates Thursday, June 7, 11:45 a.m., Fireside Room

"The Great Alone," by Kristin Hannah, centers around the family of a former POW who comes home from the Vietnam War a changed man, and, in an effort to regain his equilibrium, moves his family to live off the grid in Alaska. Written by the author of "The Nightingale," this book is described as an "unforgettable portrait of human frailty and resilience." Sue Moore will moderate. Book Mates Co-chairs are Virginia and Ira Teller. Call the Club for reservation and lunch information.

100-Year-Old Masterwork, "Winesburg, Ohio," Is Timely and Insightful

By VIRGINIA and IRA TELLER, Book Mates Co-chairs

Sherwood Anderson's "Winesburg, Ohio," like many of the classics S/C Bill Watkins has introduced and moderated for Book Mates' discussion, is filled with characters, themes, and issues that are even more relevant today than when this novel was published in 1919.

Bill began the discussion with background on the evolution of novels and the differences in structure between a novel and a short story. Although each of the 24 sections in "Winesburg, Ohio" stands on its own, they are part of a tapestry and the coming of age and maturity of George Willard, obviously the author, and provide the thread that pulls it all together into a novel. The town of the title, also a character, is similar to the one in which Anderson grew up, with the "grotesques" depicting people he knew.

Book Mates members offered their ideas on the various themes: unfulfillment, alienation, religion, poverty, unhappy marriages, and the impact of "what other people think."

All of the characters in "Winesburg, Ohio" are grotesques, in the text's definition of that word. Truths are beautiful, but when truths become fixed in people's lives, they turn people into grotesques – lonely, isolated distortions of people.

Bill asked for each to single out a chapter that made the most impact. "Hands," "The Untold Lie," "The Thinker," and "Tandy" stood out.

When the book was published, some critics attacked it for being immoral because of its sexual themes, both hidden and blatant. Book Mates all found the work to be timely and still relevant, digging deeper into human understanding and longing than most contemporary novels.

Our June selection is "The Great Alone," by Kristin Hannah, author of "The Nightingale." Sue

Moore will moderate. July's selection is "Pachinko," by Min Jin Lee. Linda Oistad will moderate. ♣

From the Manager

By MICHELE UNDERWOOD

It is wonderful to see business picking up in the dining room. Chef Christian Monchâtre and his staff, as well as F&B Director Steve Bell and the dining room staff, have made great efforts to improve the food and beverage service to our members. Even better service can be provided if you make reservations. When we know we have 80-plus reservations, we space out the seating, prepare additional servings of food and schedule more staff. Eighty walk-ins create extra wait time as the kitchen can only prepare so many meals at one time and there is bound to be a table waiting for their food. If you are planning to bring in your crew on Wednesday night after Sunset Series, let us know before you head out, so we can have your table ready when you return. If it's a beautiful day and you want to have Sunday Brunch at the Club, give us a call. Having the time to prepare makes all the difference in making our operations more efficient.

There has been some confusion about the Reservation and Cancellation Policy. As stated in the roster on page 56, members who make reservations for cruises and Club events and cancel those reservations within 72 hours of the event will be billed for one-half of the regular cost per person. No-shows will be charged the full amount. We are trying to make sure that we adequately prepare for events, so reservations will be confirmed prior to the 72-hour cutoff. We hate to over-prepare food or set a table with half the table empty. Please help us eliminate waste by letting us know if you are not able to come within the time frame given. This also allows us enough time to call members on a waitlist who may want to attend. Extenuating circumstances will be reviewed.

We've made a change to our holiday barbecues. We will have our Memorial Day and Labor Day barbecues on Sunday evening instead of Monday. The Memorial Day barbecue will start at 5 p.m., followed by our first Evening Colors ceremony at 6:45 p.m. It will give everyone time to enjoy fun at the Club without worrying about work or school the next day. Music will be provided by DJ Scott Jarema.

The Snack Bar will be open on weekends only starting on the Saturday of Memorial Day weekend until June 9 when it will be open seven days a week until Labor Day. Pool service will be offered Wednesday through Sunday from Memorial Day until Labor Day and then weekends only in September.

You may have noticed we have added an additional fire pit and new, teak Adirondack chairs to the Epicurean Patio. Enjoy the sunset views from our new seating area. We have also added another teak dining set to our bar balcony for additional seating. Lounge chairs and umbrellas will be checked and replaced as needed this month.

There are many fun events and activities to choose from this month. The Power Fleet is off to Malibu for a day cruise on May 5. If you don't have a boat and you want to go, let us know and we will find someone you can ride with. Mother's Day brunch at the Club is sure to please the mothers and grandmothers in your family on May 13. Reservations are required. John Sangmeister will discuss Transpac 2019 as well as planning for the LA Olympics 2024 at the Yachting Program May 24. The Pacific Cup Deepwater Series starts off with the first of three races on the bay, the "Zig Zag", on May 20, followed by the "Baywatch" on July 7, and the "Catch Me If You Can" August 5. Cal Race Week and Cal Cup are around the corner June 1-3. With the combination of the two regattas this year, there will be a need for more race committee volunteers. Contact Chairs V/C Debbie Feinerman, Fleet Judge Advocate Nicole Harnett, or S/C Bill Stump if you are interested in participating.

See you 'round the Club. ♣

Warning

Beware of Stowaways

Raccoons Threaten Island Ecosystems

In recent years raccoons have begun making their way to Catalina Island aboard private vessels. Raccoons are not native to Catalina Island or any of the California Channel Islands and pose a serious threat to people, pets, wildlife and the delicate ecology of the islands.

If you observe a raccoon on your boat please contact one of the following:

Anytime Animal Control (800) 714-8727
All City Animal Trapping (877) 724-5314
(NOTE: There is a charge for these services)

If you detect a raccoon on your boat mid-channel on a passage to Catalina, DO NOT proceed to the Island!

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.
